Arrange for Granges to Take Part in Cherry Fair

For the purpose of arranging plans by which the granges of Marion county may be represented at the Cherry fair to be held in Salem Monday, July 3, the agricultural committee of Pomona grange, of Marion county, met this afternoon at the Commercial club. Each grange in the county was entitled to two delegates.

After a general discussion of the fair, in which W. M. Hamilton represented the Commercial club, it was practically decided that each of the county granges should be represented in the parade Monday, July 3, and that each should carry a banner.

It is probable that the granges will arrange to hold a basket picnic in one of the city parks.

W. H. Stevens, of Gervais, was elected chairman and J. E. Whitehead, of Turner, secretary. To make arrangements and to secure the co-operation of all the Marion county granges the following committees were appointed: Parade, W. A. Jones, of Macleay, and Mrs. Zella S. Fletcher, of Salem, and H. R. Crawford, of Turner. On program, chairman, W. H. Stevens, Gervais, and secretary, J. E. Whitehead, of Turner. On reception, F. B. Simpson, J. Voorhes and C. E. Spence, master of state granges.

The delegates present at today's meeting were: W. H. Stevens, Gervais; Mrs. Zella S. Fletcher, Salem; W. C. Kenyon, Astoria; J. H. Miller, Stayton; G. W. Harris, Turner; Eugene Finley, Jefferson; W. A. Jones, Macleay; H. R. Crawford, Turner; J. J. McDonald, Salem; O. C. Weller, Woodburn; F. B. Simpson, Jefferson; O. P. Larson, Woodburn; J. E. Whitehead, Turner, and J. Voorhes.

George Taylor of Albany is in the city in the interest of a loganberry plant to be established in that city. This morning he was in consultation at the corporation commissioner's office. Albany proposes to put up a loganberry plant and as all the interests of the city are united at least on this proposition, the plant is practically assured.

A Talk On the Care of Your Child's Eyes

Your child is now well into his school work; his school is one-half over. How is he doing?

Have you thought to notice his eyes? You know that even if he is suffering from eye strain he may not realize just what is the trouble. It is one of the most important duties of parents, unfortunately often neglected, to keep careful watch over the eyesight of their children.

Notice your own child today. See how he holds his book; he is reading. Is it too near his eyes? That sometimes may only mean carelessness, but it generally means that the eyes need attention.

Has your child any tendency not to look squarely at an object; does he blink or squint? Does he ever have any difficulty in recognizing people at a distance. In any of these cases you should have his eyes examined without any delay. Slight eye troubles frequently can be entirely overcome; but if not attended to promptly they tend to become more serious and permanent.

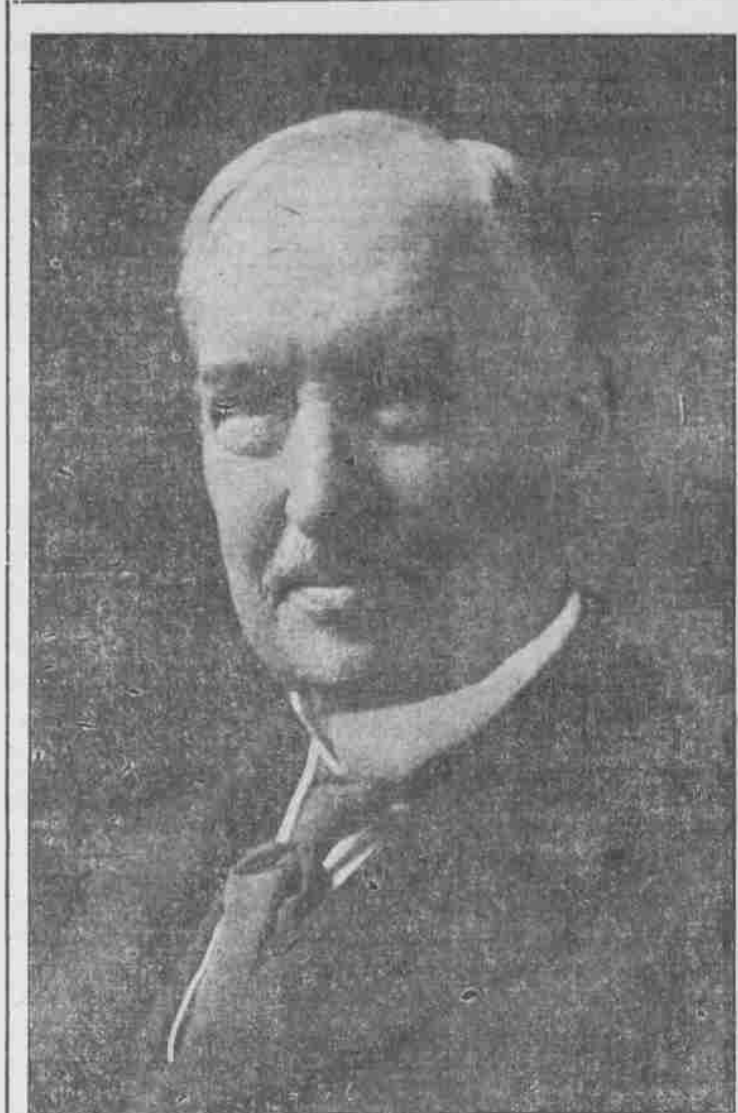

A thorough examination is exceedingly important and in order to convince yourself bring your children to me. I never recommend glasses unless they are absolutely required. If your child already wears glasses you should watch his eyesight even more carefully. The eyes change as the child grows, and the lenses that fitted him last year may not be exactly right now. I make a specialty of correctly fitting children's eyes.
